Black Swan

Nineteen Hundred Forty-One

Annual Publication of the Seniors
of William Byrd High School, Vinton, Virginia

Foreword

You went to high school; you will never forget that. You spent several years at this high school, filled with new experiences, with happiness, with the joys of accomplishment. If you were like the rest of us, all was not always serene; but for the most part, your memory of this place will glow with a sense of pleasure. To recall this memory and to bring to life things long since done, we publish this volume of the Black Swan.

Dedication

TO

Mr. Paul E. Ahalt

Who has, for the past ten years, so efficiently performed his many duties. We have all been influenced by his wise advice, cooperative spirit, unique sense of humor, and amiable disposition. With the deepest feeling of admiration, respect and appreciation, the BLACK SWAN staff dedicates this volume.

Student Government

In high school, some people feel that if a student receives an education consisting of "readin', writin' and 'rithmetic," he has all the necessary knowledge. However, at William Byrd the activities, when we're not in class, play one of the most prominent parts in giving information to the student. Therefore, athletic organizations, clubs, the band, and the student governing council are important groups in the school. The following students are officers of the Student Government:

OFFICERS

JOHNSON BLAKE.....President
GLADYS SMITH.....Vice President
MARJORIE SCOTT.....Secretary
MAYNARD TURK.....Assistant Secretary

Discarded Treasures

The Senior Class of William Byrd High School, as the party of the first part, hereby wills the following worn, but by no means delapidated, treasures to the underclasses and faculty, as parties of the second part:

Item I. To Mr. Ahalt we leave our undying respect and devotion.

Item II. To the school we leave our unswerving loyalty.

Item III. To the Senior Class of 1942, we leave our unparalleled dignity, wit, scholastic ability, and other talents.

Item IV. To the teachers we leave our extraordinary powers of concentration.

Item V. To the students we leave these individual bits of glory:

To Doris Aliff, I, Christine Adkins, do will my sweet smile.
To Vivian Pratt, I, Elizabeth Adkins, do will my golden hair.
To Martha Pillow, I, Doris Allen, do will my political beliefs.
To Nelcine McBride, I, Marie Amos, do will my "catch 'em and keep 'em" ability.
To Doreda Woolridge, I, Mary Jane Atkinson, do will my ability as a smooth dancer.
To Viola Goodman, I, Ezell Blankenship, do will my cute size.
To Vivian Whittington, I, Rosalie Booth, do will my excessive dignity.
To Margaret Hurt, I, Lois Brown, do will my giggle.
To Hattie Dwier, I, Hortense Bryant, do will my fluttery ways.
To Norma Wright, I, June Burkholder, do will my Mae West tresses.
To Hazel Scott, I, Josephine Bush, do will my Juno-esque figure.
To Alein Smith, I, Mary Elizabeth Chockley, do will my Madonna-like air.
To Lois Craig, I, Louise Damewood, do will my regular attendance at school.
To Claudine Vest, I, Marion Dearing, do will my flaming topknot.
To Lois Moore, I, Lucille Dillard, do will my height.
To Ruth Dickens, I, Ruth Doran, do will my engagement ring.
To Doris Davis, I, Audrey Eanes, do will my "up" hair-do.
To Dorothy Davis, I, Dora Mae Earles, do will my jitter-bugging tendencies.
To Lucille Manning, I, Frances Fisher, do will my position as President of the Girl Reserves.
To Sophia Eller, I, Arline Fluke, do will my "dark eyes."
To Maxine Hale, I, Helen Goggin, do will my cute brothers.
To Annie Holdren, I, Marie Guilliams, do will my quiet disposition.
To Imogene Harris, I, Doris Hadley, do will "Jackie Boy" Eanes.
To Edna Cregger, I, Gladys Hamner, do will my pink-faced watch from ————.
To L. P. Abell, I, Martha Harris, do will my unruffled calm.
To Jack Pedigo, I, Ruth Hix, do will my five-feet-plus.
To Elsie Brown, I, Evelyn Howell, do will my executive ability.
To Dorothy McGee, I, Effie James, do will my glamour-r-r.
To Floyd Craig, I, Fay Johnson, do will my vivaciousness.
To Margaret Short, I, Juanita Layman, do will my chicness.
To Helen Snead, I, Aileen Lewis, do will my wholesomeness.
To Louise Guilliams, I, Lera Martin, do will my nice eyebrows.
To Irene Stanley, I, Carrie Mason, do will my sunny disposition.
To Christine Baldwin, I, Mary Frances Mason, do will my "diminutive-ness."
To the girls of the Junior Class, I, Marion McLeod, do will my swains—I've got enough to go around.
To Doris Huff, I, Mary Louise Meador, do will my personality.
To Louise Sprouse, I, Evelyn Moore, do will my "schoolgirl" complexion.
To Elva Weaver, I, Ruth Morgan, do will my pure sweetness.
To Audrey Lantz, I, Louise Mullins, do will my eternal chewing gum.
To Ella Hannabass, I, Estelle Mullins, do will my hats with veils.
To Ruby Foley, I, Edith Nolen, do will my Socialist inclinations.

Mr. Ahalt drove up to his garage door, looked inside, and blinked. Then he leaped back into the car and drove like fury to the police station.

"Sergeant," he gasped, "my garage is empty. My car's been stolen."

Pete: "Darling, time seems to stand still when I'm with a clever girl like you."
Lillie: "Well, no wonder. You've a face that would stop any clock.

From Fluff and Down

To Cap and Gown

From your exalted position as monarch of the nursery, deep in the satin folds of a down comfort . . . to this equally exalted state at the pinnacle of graduation, Heironimus has been your store. We've enjoyed every minute from the time you wore rompers 'till we graduated you to formals and tux . . . so let us salute you—"from crib and nap to gown and cap"—and on to a great, bright future!

Heironimus

Fay Johnson entered a stationery store and asked for a pound of floor wax.
"I'm sorry, Miss," replied the clerk, "we sell only sealing wax."
"Don't be silly," she remarked, "why should anyone want to wax a ceiling?"

Mr. Hampton: "I want to tell you a story that'll make your hair curl."
Mr. Horn: "Hoot mon! Wait'll I get my wife. She wants a finger wave."

Most any girl can make a man look sheepish merely by pulling the wool over his eyes.

A magazine writer says a dog fills an empty place in a man's life.
This is especially true of the hot dog.

Mr. Mynes: "I'm afraid I'll never see you in heaven, my son."
Red M.: "Whatcha been doin' now, pop?"

Maurice W.: "I passed by your house last night."
Marion D.: "Thanks."
